Chart 1 – Attendance by Class

1. What is this chart trying to show?

It shows the attendance of students in different classes (Groups A to E).

2. What's wrong with the color choice?

The colors are too similar and confusing, so it is difficult to compare the groups clearly.

Use different, clear colors for each group, such as blue, green, orange, purple, and red.

1. What is this chart trying to show?

It shows the amount of rainfall received in each month.

2. What's wrong with the color choice?

The colors are very bright and distracting, making the chart harder to read and compare.

Use one consistent color for all months, or use different shades of blue to represent rainfall.
